Crime up in 1985

GRANITE CITY — Major crimes increased a total of 7 percent in 1985. The largest increase occurred in cases of criminal sexual assault, where 200 percent increase was recorded (5 cases in 1984 to 15 cases in 1985).

POLICE CHIEF Bill Harris said the increase can be attributed to increased awareness about sexual abuse and the new willingness of persons to report such crimes.

Another increase occurred in robberies, which went up by 30 percent (20 in 1984 to 26 in 1985).

Harris said it is not unusual for incidents of robbery to fluctuate from year to year. He pointed out that one of the city's biggest armed robberies, at the CMC Store on Nov. 1, was followed by arrests and the recovery of some of the stereo equipment taken.

OTHER INCREASES in major crimes included: burglaries, up 17 percent (385 in 1984 to 463 in 1985); auto burglaries, up 10 percent (237 in 1984 to 261 in 1985); and larceny, up 10 percent (809 in 1984 to 890 in 1985).

There was one charge of attempted criminal homicide in 1985. The case involved the arrest of Joyce R. Bauer, 47, of 2625 Lincoln Place, who allegedly mixed arsenic-laden ant poison in tea and other beverages and then served them to her husband during a 29-month period. Major crimes that decreased in 1985 were assault, down 6 percent (454 in 1984 to 427 in 1985) and auto theft, down 22 percent (92 in 1985 to 72 in 1984).

CASES CLEARED by arrests in 1985 increased by 10 percent, totaling 2,553, compared to 2,314 solved in 1984.

In major crimes, 1,171 of 2,155 were cleared in 1985, compared to 962 of 2,012 the previous year.

Harris attributed the increase in crimes solved to the work of the detective division, which he said has "followed up on more cases" in the past year.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS increased by 6 percent in 1985, rising from 1,377 to 1,466, with the number of persons injured increasing 23 percent, from 408 to 504.

Harris said the new seat belt law has made a small but significant difference in the number of fatal accidents locally.

Since the seat belt legislation became a law in July, there have been no fatal accidents.

There were a total of two fatal accidents in 1985, with a total of three people killed, however; 1984 also had three fatalities.

ONE OF 1985's fatal traffic accidents occurred on May 3, at the intersection of Illinois 3 and Industrial Park Drive, where a car crashed into a flatbed tractor-trailer, instantly killing Lisa M. Bell, 29, of Wood River; Gerald C. Gleason, 34, of Alton, died in July from injuries sustained in the accident.

The other fatal accident occurred on Memorial Day weekend, when a vehicle driven by Thomas D. Stajdl, 83, of East Alton, a former Madison resident, collided with a utility post at Illinois 3 and Chain of Rocks Road. He died a month later from his injuries.

Statistics on the number of arrests made in 1985 show a 5 percent decrease in the number of people charged (7,982 decreasing to 7,576). The total number of charges declined from 8,965 to 8,479.

NON-MOVING vehicle-related arrests, such as parking tickets, rose 45 percent, from 1,025 to 1,494.

Harris said the increase is partly due to a change in police policy, in which city slicker violations are now written out on non-moving violation tickets instead of traffic tickets. He noted this may explain why traffic arrests have decreased.

The number of traffic arrests was down 16 percent (5,254 in 1984 to 4,431 in 1985) and other arrests were down 2 percent (1,703 in 1984 to 1,661 in 1985).

The police department answered a total of 21,998 complaints and reports by the public in 1985.

Madison 'writes off' $310,477 in fund debts

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

MADISON — The City Council voted Tuesday night to write off $310,477 in interfund debts of the municipality.

It adopted a resolution waiving repayment of the money, even though it said it had not been its intention to loan the funds.

THE PROCESS of writing off the money was done as a net book loss, Fred Bathon, city treasurer, said. This caused a $36,000 "cash flow loss," he added.

The loans that won't be repaid include $211,154 in city revenue spent in the (burglar) alarm fund and $19,500 in city revenue placed in the playground and recreation account.

Also written off were five transfers that had been made from the revenue sharing account — $39,000 to liability insurance, $20,000 to playground and recreation, $14,500 to the municipal retirement fund, $5,000 to city revenue and $1,323 to capital projects.

ALONG WITH the repayment waiver/resolution, aldermen approved another resolution related to the city alarm department, which does not have sufficient funds to repay funds due the liability insurance fund. The council transferred $45,000 from the general fund to the alarm fund so it can be forwarded to the insurance fund.

Broadening the discussion beyond the interfund debts, Bathon told the council members he is concerned that costs are rising and revenues are declining.

"I think it is time the council takes a look at the times and looks at more revenue for the city," Bathon said.

CITY COMPTROLLER Rick Tutka told the aldermen liability insurance costs are higher and there is no levy to meet them.

Also, the alarm system is not breaking even; its expenses are exceeding its income, Tutka said.

In response, Alderman William Gushieff said the finance committee has been meeting and is reviewing the budget.

"BELT-TIGHTENING is in vogue and I think we will have to do this as a result," he said. (See DEBTS, Page 9A)

Astorian answers Terry's charges

MADISON COUNTY — Conflicting stories about job offers are being told by two candidates for Madison County sheriff. During a press conference Jan. 7, James Terry of Edwardsville said he had been offered jobs by Bob Astorian, a lieutenant colonel with the Granite City Police Department; Hartford Police Chief Robert Churchill; and Marty Levault, a Madison County probation officer. Terry said he declined the offers.

Astorian denies he offered Terry a job.

"I met with Jim Terry twice at his request, and both times I advised him I was going to follow the Illinois state statute and appoint a chief deputy of my choice, whom I will

VENICE — Shining eyes and happy faces abounded in the school gymnasium Wednesday as kindergarten and primary grade youngsters prepared to pay tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Excited about their part in the

Martin Luther King Jr. birthday observance, even the smallest children seemed to know the occasion was extra special and meaningful.

VENICE GRADE SCHOOL'S Junior Beta Club, a national honors group, sponsored the program — "His Light Still Shines."

Linda Cottrell, faculty sponsor, coordinated the school observance and Yolanda Scruggs, Beta president, was master of ceremonies.

About 400 attending the assembly were welcomed by Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers.

Ivy Justice thought she'd never live long enough to see Halley's Comet twice.

When I saw it last time, I wondered if I would ever see it again," she said.

BUT IVY ADMITS it's a little bit harder to see a comet, nowadays.

with all of the houses and trees getting in the way, not to mention how much harder it is to just get around when you're 95.

"I'm slow but sure," she said jokingly as she used her walker to make her way into her Granite City living room. "I haven't been able to get outside since my birthday last July 18. I'd like to see that comet, though."

Ivy was a spy 19 the last time Halley's Comet made its appearance. She worked in a box factory in Farnfield, Mo., at the time.

"THEY USED TO call it Hay-lee's comet then. I remember the comet had a tail on it about as wide as that window over there," she said, pointing to a kitchen window about three feet wide.

"I remember seeing the comet outside of my bedroom window. One day it was on one side of the house, and the next day it was on the other side of the house."

Many people were afraid of the comet during its last appearance in 1910, Ivy said.

SOME OF THE PANIC surfaced when it was learned the Earth would pass through the tail of Halley's Comet. It was believed the tail was composed of deadly cyanide gas.

"I remember the night before it happened. Some people thought they wouldn't be living the next day," she laughed. "But the next day, everyone was still there."

Ivy said she was never scared of the comet.

"I was young — I didn't know any better," she said.

THE ASTRONOMY BUFF said she can't quite remember how her parents and grandparents reacted to the news.

"My mother might have been praying," she said. "I think my mother prayed for everything."

Back then, the coverage of the comet was a lot different than it is today. Most people got their information by word of mouth, Ivy said.

IT MIGHT HAVE been in the newspapers, but we didn't take them," she said. "We didn't have time to read them and some people didn't believe what they read, anyway."

Ivy, a grandmother of two and a great-grandmother of six, said it would be a shame if she didn't get to see the 1986 appearance of Halley's Comet — considering she is one of the few fortunate enough to live that long.

A promise from her daughter to look for the comet during a visit to the country in March may give her the twice-in-a-lifetime experience.

Warriors spin past Toppers

HILLSBORO — Granite City used a 23-9 fourth quarter to upend Hillsboro 68-63 Friday night in a non-conference prep basketball game.

Jamie Hogan poured in 22 points while Tom Taylor added 21. Tim Hogan (16), Joe Gray and Chris Vizeer each scored 10 to pace Granite City. The Warriors are now 13-2.

At Litchfield, Venice got 31 points from Jesse Hall, however, it wasn't enough.

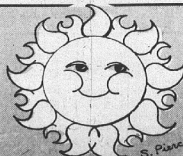

Taylorville placed four players in double figures and beat Venice 68-53 in the third place game of the Litchfield Mid-Winter tournament.

A look at the lottery Missouri's lottery still needs some fine-tuning

The first Missouri lottery ticket sale will be both a beginning and an end in the lottery story. It will mark Missouri's entry into the realm of legalized gambling, the 23rd state to have a lottery.

It will be the beginning of a new source of revenue for state programs, although the first year's revenue from the lottery (55 cents of each dollar) will not be available. According to law, the lottery commission will keep the first year's revenue.

At the same time, the start of the lottery will mark the end of a long wait by Missourians who have watched ordinary people—some in Missouri—win thousands and millions of dollars by playing the Illinois lottery.

Also, it will mean the end of the campaign against the lottery, even though a state lottery was assured by the November 1984 vote. During the legislative debate on a lottery—and its companion, the pari-mutuel betting (or horse racing) amendment—the battle lines were clearly drawn.

Church groups and social service agencies argued that legalized gambling would hurt poor people, who would play the games looking at a get-rich-quick opportunity. Various denominations joined ranks, formed a well-staffed organization and hit the streets arguing against gambling. The vote margin reflected their lack of success.

The lottery issue also worked its way into the 1984 gubernatorial campaign. A familiar site in the Republican primary was St. Louis County Executive Gene McNary displaying an oversized check for $1 million, the amount of revenue projected from the lottery. McNary pledged to use the lottery revenue for education.

But it was John Ashcroft, his opponent, who, although personally opposed to the lottery, last year quickly signed into law legislation setting up the lottery mechanism. The lottery revenue, by the way, will go into the state's general fund.

There still might be more legislation forthcoming on the lottery. Some legislators question whether the lottery will succeed without being advertised; the law contains a ban on advertising. A bill has been introduced in this year's legislature that would remove that ban.

Another question to be resolved is whether the lottery commission can operate on only 10 percent of the total amount raised. The law sets aside 10 percent for operation, 45 percent for winnings and 45 percent to the state treasury. Other states' percentage for operation, for games similar to Missouri's, range from 15 percent in Washington to 23 percent in Arizona.

If a larger share goes to operations, that would mean less either to the public in winnings or less to state services.

Lottery Executive Director Jim Holmes, a former FBI agent from Springfield, believes 10 percent is adequate, considering that all proceeds from the first year's sales will be kept by the commission. "We could live off the 55 percent for several years," he says.

But Ashcroft, joining Holmes recently at St. Louis news conference, says the amount for operations is an "appropriate item for debate. We ought to look at the alternatives."

So while legislators begin fine-tuning the lottery law, retailers will begin selling the first of 60 million tickets ordered for the instant winner game. There will be other lottery games started later.

Allen honored for his child support emphasis

Dick Allen of Granite City, Madison County state's attorney, has been awarded two certificates of recognition by Gregory L. Coler, director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

Coler made the presentations at the winter conference of Illinois State's Attorneys, held in Chicago. IN MAKING the presentations, Coler said, "In government it is often the competition between parties and agencies that gets the most attention. But it's cooperation that produces the most results."

There is no better example of how that cooperation serves the taxpayers than the relationship between the Illinois department of Public Aid and the local state's attorney.

"Dick Allen recorded the largest increase in total child support of any county prosecutor. In fiscal 1984, his office topped the $1 million mark.

But in fiscal 1985, he registered an increase of about 30 percent, to more than $1.3 million.

"DICK ALLEN ALSO had the largest increase in the collection of child support for women who are not on welfare. He doubled his collection to nearly $170,000 for women who might have had to turn to welfare if they had not experienced the child support services of the Madison County state's attorney's office."

Coler concluded by saying, "Mr. Allen, the Department of Public Aid is appreciative of all your efforts on your behalf."

In accepting, Allen said he appreciated the public recognition by Illinois. He was quick to credit his "very capable" staff in the Child Support Division.

"Assistant State's Attorney John P. McGuire is doing a superb job in the proper pursuit of child support matters," Allen said.

Will 'MoLott' reduce Illinois lottery plan?

In the long run, the Missouri lottery could help rather than hinder the Illinois lottery.

That's the assessment of one Illinois lottery official, Dennis Wright, regional manager in Cahokia.

"I think initially it might bite into us a little bit," Wright says. But, he adds, "People are still going to come across and play our games. In the long run, I think it might even help us."

Wright says Missouri's instant winner game, which begins noon Monday throughout the state, will bring out many first-time lottery players. He believes some of those players might also become Illinois lottery players.

Illinois' lottery started in 1974, although the highly popular Lotto, which has a weekly pot of about $6 million, has been around only since February of 1983. Because Illinois has a variety of lottery games, Wright thinks Missourians now playing the games will continue playing them, even though they will participate in the Missouri game.

While Wright says Illinois lottery officials aren't overly concerned about Missouri's new game, they are making two significant changes.

First, they are adding another weekly Lotto drawing. Joining the traditional Saturday night drawing is a Wednesday Lotto drawing, which begins tonight. The second change is the advance sales of tickets. Retailers now will sell advance tickets for five, 10 or 15 drawings. Illinois residents can obtain advance tickets through the mail for 26, 52 or 104 drawings.

Federal postal regulations prohibit non-Illinois residents from obtaining advance tickets through the mail; Wright says those regulations are being challenged in court.

Wright says the changes in the Lotto game are "not necessarily" in response to the start of the Missouri lottery.

December crime rate increases in GC

GRANITE CITY—Violent crimes increased in the city, during December.

According to police records, crimes of forcible rape or criminal sexual assault, robbery and assault all increased when compared with December 1984.

Rape cases increased by 200 percent (3 in 1985 to 1 in 1984), robbery incidents rose by 300 percent (4 in 1985 to 1 in 1984) and assault cases went up to 36 in 1985 from 30 in December 1984.

Burglaries rose to 50 in 1985 from 31, auto burglaries increased to 22 from 21, and auto thefts doubled, to 6 in 1985 from 3 in 1984.

Decreases occurred in larceny cases, down from 52 in 1984 to 50 in 1985.

Criminal homicides were listed the same as last December, with none reported. The Dec. 30 murder of a South St. Louis man is regarded as a Madison County case.

Total accidents recorded for December decreased from 152 to 141, despite the number of personal injury accidents increasing by one.

Traffic arrests rose from 267 to 495 in December 1985. The total number of arrests increased as well, from 523 to 754.

Police answered a total of 1,771 complaints during the past month.

A REMINDER FROM THE LAW TODAY

Much of the information put out about the so-called medical malpractice "crisis" has left people with the impression that doctors and other medical personnel are expected to be perfect. This is not the law, and it never has been. Under our law, most people are charged with the responsibility of exercising ordinary care in what they do as they go about their lives. This simply means that they are expected to act as a responsible person doing the same activities would act. The rule is not any different for those who practice medicine; they are only required to act as reasonable doctors would act under the circumstances; and a malpractice suit will only be successful when they don't exercise this degree of care. In spite of this fair and equitable application of the rule of ordinary care, legislation has been passed which makes it much harder and more expensive for the injured person to even receive a jury trial in a malpractice action. While complaints by medical people and insurance companies may cause us alarm about the costs of medical care, shouldn't we be even more alarmed about legislation which threatens to take the constitutional right to a jury trial away from the working man and woman?

We will be discussing this and other relevant topics on this Tuesday's program.

River recreation complex planned

MADISON COUNTY — A recreational area along the Mississippi River is planned in Chouteau Township.

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will meet at 10:45 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 30, to consider a request for a special use permit and a variation for the recreational area.

Chain of Rocks Development Corporation and its secretary/treasurer, Austin Opp, want to develop 91 acres in a flood area for a "water recreational complex." Opp has indicated the area will provide fishing, swimming and water skiing, zoning officials said. Opp could not be reached for comment.

The site lies in an agricultural district on Water Works Road a quarter mile south of the pumping station on Chouteau Island. The zoning hearing will take place on the site.

Another on-site hearing is set for 9:30 a.m. Jan. 30 at 4123 Division Street in Nameoki Township.

Fred Hartline, owner, wants a special use permit to place a mobile home in an R-3 one-family residence district.

At 9:50 a.m., the zoning board will meet at 2600 Hemlock Ave. to hear a request for a special use permit from James Baker, owner. He wants a "home occupation" to operate an accounting office in his residence. The home is located in an R-4 single-family residence district in Nameoki Township.

Book fair set at Coolidge

Coolidge Junior High School will be holding a book fair Jan. 21 through Jan. 28 in the school library.

The fair will be open each day from 7:30 to 8 a.m. and again through the lunch hours. The event will offer students the opportunity to choose books that may not otherwise be conveniently available to them. The school stresses reading as the cornerstone of education. A wide variety of children's books and books for young adults will be offered.

Price of the books will range between 95 cents and $5.95. The book fair will also include book covers, portfolios, unicorn calendars and "doodle sniffs."

It is a Student Council sponsored project.

Video copies of school play ready

GRANITE CITY — Video copies of the Wilson School Christmas play may be purchased for $20 from PVS (Professional Video Service), according to Derek, 402-3206 and Dale Ray, 451-9296. The play will not be seen on cable television this year.

Bowling for special education students is continuing on Saturdays at Bowland. Bus pickup is at the Press-Record at 1 p.m. and bowling starts at 1:30. Cost is $1.65 for three games and new bowlers are welcome.

Dances for those 14 and older are being held on the second Friday of each month at the Venice Recreation Center from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Cost is $1 and Kay may be called for transportation at 451-9032. The next dance will be on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14.

There are mid-semester openings in the home economics class of the College for Independence. The class is held on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 at Co-Ordinated Youth Services, Delmar and Niedringhaus avenues. There is no transportation available. To register for the class, students may contact Carolyn Smoot, 931-2943. Tuition is $5. Microwave instruction will be given.

Topic for the next Parents for Special Education meeting will be the 1986 Job Fair for the Handicapped. The purpose of the fair is to acquaint special education high school students with employers. Parents of the students are especially encouraged to assist in the planning, a spokesman said. The meeting will be held in the rear building of the Granite City School Board office, 20th and Adams streets, at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 21.

New PTA for Venice schools

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

VENICE — Carolyn Wilson will serve as the first president of the newly formed Parent-Teacher Association for the Venice School District.

The original PTA disbanded several years ago when attendance dropped and parental interest waned. Forty-two parents and teachers have joined the new group.

ELECTION RESULTS from the PTA's first formal meeting on Jan. 6 and progress being made in recruiting members were reported by Mrs. Wilson to the Venice Board of Education last week.

Named to serve on the PTA's first executive board in 1986 are: Cynthia Crawford, vice president; Sandra K. Sanders, secretary; Karen R. Matkins, treasurer; and Martha E. Brent, assistant treasurer.

"WE WANT ALL the board members to join with us and help get this PTA going," Mrs. Wilson said. Support for the organization was voiced by the board at an earlier meeting.

As its initial fund-raising project, the group is offering red, black and green ribbon bows for 25 cents.

The ribbons are being worn in honor of the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and also in recognition of "Black History Month."

which will be observed nationwide during February. The colors represent the Black history theme.

PERMISSION to sell the ribbons to students and faculty at school during specific hours was granted by the board.

The cost of purchasing ribbon to make the bows has depleted the new PTA's small treasury, Mrs. Crawford said.

"But we hope every student and teacher at Venice Grade School and Venice High School will be wearing one," she added.

Parents of all Venice students are invited to attend the PTA's next meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 3, in the school cafeteria.

Student Theater Project Company presents show

MADISON — The Mundy Student Theater Project Company's "What If I Want to Say No?" will be presented to students on Wednesday, Jan. 22, at 1 p.m.

Problems of peer pressure, drug and alcohol abuse will be addressed in a collection of scenes with music, portraying difficulties encountered on "the rocky road to growing up at Madison High School."

The production is based on interviews and improvisations with young people. The student project is designed and operated by the Theater Project Company for the Mundy in St. Louis and seeks to be both innovative and educational.

Original productions are performed, drawn from contemporary and classical material, folk tales, literature, history and real life.

This performance has been made possible by an Arts in Education Grant, Dolores Folkerts of the school district staff said.

Another school aid boost predicted

A promise made last year of at least another $250 million increase in state aid to elementary and secondary education for next school year will be kept. But a $362 million hike sought by the State Board of Education (SBE) is unlikely, Gov. James Thompson said Jan. 9.

Appearing before SBE members, Thompson also gave a preview of his budget message in March, saying that other than for education there would be "essentially no growth in the rest of state government."

The $250-million increase for next year, on top of $347 million for this school year, would be consistent with the five-year "education reform" funding he proposed last year, Thompson said.

A HIGHER STATE TAX on cigarettes and a new tax on interstate telephone calls were passed last year to fund more state aid to education, but Thompson firmly said Thursday he would not seek nor did he expect any tax increases this year.

Revenues also have been below projections, Thompson said, and "that doesn't leave a lot of running room."

He said a hiring freeze would be "toughened" and noted a second weekly "Lotto" game beginning this month can boost revenues.

If revenues improve significantly, education would get the "top priority," Thompson said.

HE VISITED three schools in the Lawrenceville area before arriving at the SBE meeting.

Thompson also took some swipes at his likely opponent in the November election, Democrat Adlai Stevenson. He said Stevenson made no contribution to the education reform effort last year.

Thompson misquoted Stevenson as saying "human beings have gone the way of the horse," which the governor said was an insult to both working people and horses.

Stevenson actually said in a press conference in Springfield Jan. 8 that "manual labor is going the way of the horse."

other for the education reform package and increased funding passed last year.

Thompson said he planned to visit several schools this year to see how the reforms are being implemented and to determine what else needs to be done to improve the state's schools.

STATE FUNDING of elementary and secondary education was boosted from $1.99 billion last year to $2.34 billion for the current school year.

The SBE has proposed state aid of $2.7 billion for next school year.

Thompson's annual appearance before the SBE turned into a mutual admiration society, with State Superintendent of Education Ted Sanders, SBE board members and Thompson congratulating each

Seatbelts in carts

Toddlers now have safer shopping trips to Schnucks. Seatbelts were stalled in shopping carts at every Schnucks supermarket last week.

Craig D. Schnuck, president, said, "As far as we know, we are the first supermarket company in this area to install seatbelts. We are pleased we are able to do this. It will make shopping much easier for parents with young children."

About 30 percent of the carts at Schnucks will be equipped with seatbelts. In most stores, 50 shopping carts will be available with the belts.

In larger stores or neighborhoods with many young families, more carts will be provided with the safety equipment.

Parent Poetry Night Thursday in Madison

Eighth grade students of Elaine Shipcoff in the Madison Middle School are hosting a "Parent Poetry Night" on Thursday, Jan. 23, at 7:30 p.m.

The event will be a culmination of students' study of poetry and a visit Thursday from Peter Simpson, a published poet. His latest book of poems, "Stealing Home," is about his home life in St. Louis. The St. Louis writer is assistant director of news services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He will spend all day Thursday meeting with all eighth grade classes. He will elicit personal poems from students as well as "classwide group poems. Discussion will focus on how to read poetry with sensitivity and enjoyment.

The students will help Simpson entertain their parents and share their achievements and the poetry they have written.

Parents and friends will have the opportunity to meet, question and visit with the poet. Later, the students will serve refreshments.

Pre-apprenticeses sought by Operating Engineers union

Operating Engineers Local 520 and the Southern Illinois Builders Association Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committee have announced that applications for apprentices will be accepted between Feb. 17 and Feb. 28, Mondays through Fridays, between 9 a.m. and noon.

Any person satisfying the requirements may make application with the Local 520 Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committee at 520 Engineer Road, Mitchell.

Applications will be received for the pre-apprenticeship program regardless of race, creed, color, national origin or sex.

Interested persons will be required to take aptitude tests, attend briefing sessions, appear for a personal interview and provide all documentation as required by the committee.

Each applicant for pre-apprenticeship must be at least 18 years of age and must provide a legible copy of his birth certificate.

All must successfully pass the aptitude testing administered by the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security, Job Service.

All applicants must possess a valid driver's license and transportation.

Each must be an American citizen or in the process of naturalization.

All applicants must be physically fit to do the work of the trade. A doctor's certificate of good health may be required prior to acceptance.

Each applicant must reside within the territorial jurisdiction of Operating Engineers Local 520: St. Clair, Madison, Macoupin, Bond, Clinton, Monroe, Washington, Marion, Jefferson, Perry, Calhoun, Randolph, Jersey, Montgomery, Fayette and Greene counties.

Low-interest mortgage loan deadline nearing

"With the Jan. 24 deadline fast approaching, first-time home buyers who want to take advantage of home mortgage rates nearly 3 percent below conventional rates should make application as soon as possible," State Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City, said.

"Even though past demand for these loans has been heavy, all interested first-time home buyers should apply."

"Applicants have a better chance of acceptance during this phase of the program because the state has increased both the funding and income guidelines to qualify for the loans," Wolf said.

"The $20 million program is the largest home mortgage program ever offered by the state."

"Household income limits have been raised by nearly $4,000, to $55,300, for the program, which offers 30-year fixed rate mortgages at 9.8 percent."

Wolf said the latest program allows a higher purchase ceiling for qualifying first-time home buyers in certain areas of the state.

In targeted areas of Metro East, an applicant can receive a loan for a newly constructed home costing up to $110,000, and up to $85,000 for an existing home, Wolf explained.

In non-targeted areas, loans for newly-constructed homes can range up to $101,000, and up to $78,540 for existing structures.

According to Wolf, if a lender's mortgage allocation is exceeded by the demand for loans, a lottery drawing will be held on Jan. 27.

For information on the loans and participating lending institutions, Quad-Cities may call the Illinois Housing Development Authority at 1-800-942-8439.

guests who joined with students in reciting the pledge of allegiance and singing "Lift Every Voice and Sing" and "We Shall Overcome."

"MY SON WAS very excited," one mother said. "He said to me that it feels good to celebrate Dr. King's birthday."

Grade School Principal Seth Kirkpatrick addressed the assembly. A eulogy, written by Benjamin Mays, was given by Christina Wiley.

The tiniest pupils from kindergarten classes enthusiastically sang "Black Children Were Born in America," and were greeted with smiles and applause.

FIRST AND 2ND graders, holding hands and singing "He Had a Dream," obviously enjoyed their assignment.

A group of students from the same two grades, wearing hats and over-size jackets, recited excerpts from King's writings. Each youngster memorized his remarks and received applause from the audience.

Fourth graders performed a skit, entitled "A Determined Woman," and students from the 5th grade recited the George Horton poem, "On Liberty and Slavery."

IN THE PEACE Movement sequence, 3rd grade pupils illustrated the 1963 period and Dr. King's "I Have a Dream" speech.

The circumstances of awarding the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964 to the civil rights leader, who was slain in 1968, were presented by 7th grade students.

well as bring greater revenue to the city through increased sales and taxes, and develop and promote more business," Gushleiff said.

Mayor John Belicoff said he wanted the finance committee to set up a meeting with Jeff Gravelle and the alarm committee to determine a way for the alarm system to break even financially. The system primarily serves Madison businesses.

In conjunction with business revenue problems, the mayor told the council that the Lanter Refrigerated Distributing Co., 3 Caine Drive, is seeking more area to expand its operations at the city-owned Stephen Maeras Industrial Park.

"WAYNE LANTER has offered $100,000 for a parcel of land across the street from his business, land that the owner originally paid $35,000 for," the mayor said.

Belicoff added, "Since he has had no answer to his offer, Lanter is now looking in other areas to relocate. If he relocates, this would make more revenue from the city."

After Alderman Don Garrett inquired about 90 acres owned by the Department of Defense at the Granite City Army Installation (St.

Louis Area Support Center), an area believed to be within Madison city limits, the mayor said he is showing the site to Lanter as a possible new location.

In other business, John Dutko, building inspector, reported 23 permits were issued during a two-week period and the city will begin razing seven deteriorating houses and one garage.

ROBBIE ROBBINS, street superintendent, said the razing will occur as soon as utility crews turn off gas and electricity in the houses.

Dutko told the council he is trying to persuade a man who stores material at Third and State streets to clean up the property.

Robbins announced two members of his department attended classes, and took tests for a license to operate mosquito abatement equipment.

A new refuse truck originally ordered last year was returned to an auto dealer due to problems, but it is expected to be repaired and returned to the city within a week, Robbins said.

Traffic deaths down in county

Illinois traffic fatalities during 1985 totaled 1,322, the lowest number recorded since 1924, when there were 1,065 deaths. In 1984, there were 1,546 traffic deaths; in 1983, there were 1,537 fatalities.

The Illinois Department of Transportation and State Police said December 1985 motor vehicle occupant deaths totaled 76, a 19.1 percent decrease from the December average of 94 over the past five years.

Overall fatalities for the month, including 17 pedestrians and one bicyclist, numbered 94 and were the result of 86 accidents. Three persons were killed in three railroad crossing accidents. The December total is a decrease of 24.2 percent compared to December 1984 and an 11.3 percent decrease compared to December 1983.

Vehicle occupant deaths for the six-month period from July 1 through Dec. 31 — the state's seat belt law went into effect in July totaled 502 compared to 581 for the average of the same period over the past five years. This represents a drop of 13.6 percent. The motor vehicle occupant category is one in which seat belt usage is regarded as most likely to reduce deaths and injuries.

Madison County had 66 traffic deaths in 1985, compared to 55 in the previous year. The county tallied three in the past month compared to four in December 1984.

Six credit cards also were recovered at the scene.

Litchfield spoils party, beats Venice, 74-70

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

LITCHFIELD With only one piece of the puzzle left to fill in for a Madison-Venice final, the Red Devils failed to fill it Thursday night.

In a championship semifinal of the Litchfield Mid-Winter Tournament, the sluggish Devils fell to the host Purple Panthers, 74-70. Poor rebounding and free throw shooting doomed Venice, who played Friday night in the third place game against Taylorville.

"We were very sluggish tonight," said Coach Clinton Harris, who watched his team trail almost the whole game and eventually drop to 11-4.

While the Panthers got balanced scoring, with four players finishing with between 19 and 13 points, Venice once again rested its hopes on Jesse Hall. The 6-3 junior ended up with 38 points, including 14 in the final quarter as he almost brought the Devils back from an 11-point deficit.

The Panthers, who improved their record to 10-4, had only a 34-32 lead after three quarters, but stretched the lead to 65-34 with free throws and good inside play. They made 22-of-30 free throws in the game, 14-of-17 in the fourth quarter. Venice connected on only 8-of-15 free throws in the game.

After a short shot by 6-2 senior Brian Grabow (13 points) gave Litchfield that 11-point edge, Hall went to work. He earned three straight jumpers while Litchfield managed only a free throw from Richard Hampton (14 points).

LITCHFIELD	SCORING	VENICE
	20 19 15 20 24	20 17 22
	20 17 22	20 17 22

LITCHFIELD: Jones 19, Carroll 16, Hampton 14, Grabow 13, Goldacker 8, Roper 6, FC 28, FT 22.
VENICE: Hall 38 (10 rebounds), Ware 14, Harris 8, Kieft 4, Owens 4, Turner 2, FC 31, FT 8.

Two more free throws by Bill Jones (19 points) made it 68-60. Hall answered again with a basket, but John Goldacker swished two more from the line with two minutes left.

Hall followed his own shot to score, then Litchfield threw the ball away with 1:49 to play. Ed Ware (14 points) followed his missed shot with a great tap-in and the score was 70-66 with 1:41 left. Ware was fouled on the shot, but missed a chance for a 3-point play.

Hall went to the free throw line with 1:09 left and hit both shots to make it a 2-point game, and when Hampton missed the front end of a 1-and-1 with 12 seconds left, the Red Devils had a chance to tie.

But Hall forced up a bad shot with 28 seconds left that missed, and Hampton and Goldacker each made two more free throws in the final seconds to clinch it.

Hall's slam dunk at the buzzer not only made the score closer, but gave Hall the record for most field goals in a Litchfield Tournament game (17).

"That was a bad shot by Jesse," Harris said. "He forced it up. We had plenty of time to set up something. After that, all we could do was foul."

Still, Hall's efforts only reinforced his reputation as a strong fourth-quarter player, particularly in close games.

"Jesse should play like that the whole game," Harris said.

But the Red Devils buried themselves earlier with the missed free throws, turnovers and poor rebounding, particularly under Litchfield's basket. The Panthers came down with a tremendous amount of offensive rebounds.

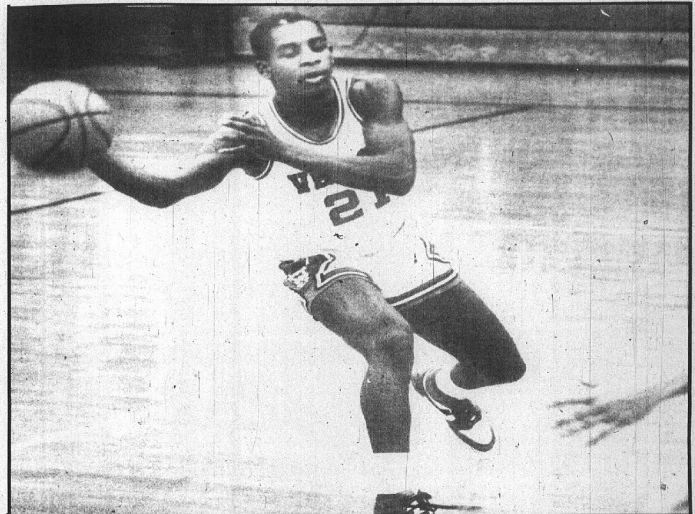

"We knew they were tough," Harris said, adding he didn't believe the players were looking ahead to the possible confrontation with Madison in Saturday night's championship game.

"We didn't play good defense most of the game. And we lost the game at the line. Every game we have lost this year, the free throws have cost us."

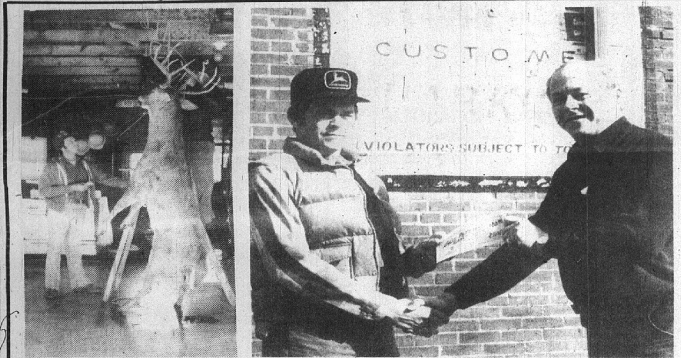

Both teams came out gunning at the start and the game was tied, 20-20, after the first quarter. Venice saw its last lead of the game after a Hall basket made it 28-27 early in the second quarter. But Jones and Hampton each made a pair of free throws and the Panthers stayed out in front. They led 39-37 at intermission.

In addition to Jones, Grabow and Hampton, Dan Carroll had 16 points for the Panthers, who shot 52 percent (26-of-50) from the floor in addition to their 73 percent free throw shooting. The Red Devils shot 48 percent (31-of-63), but only 34 percent (13-of-31) in the second half.

Litchfield was to play Madison (10-5) in the title game Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.
